Introduction

The “James Bay Cree-Naskapi Pension Plan” has been in effect since April 1, 1985. On January 1, 1995, this plan was split into two pension plans and the participating employers were assigned to one or the other depending on whether their main activities are of federal or provincial (Québec) jurisdiction. The “James Bay Cree-Naskapi Pension Plan” (hereinafter named the plan) has plan provisions similar to those of the “James Bay Cree-Naskapi Québec Pension Plan” such latter plan being created by the splitting, the only differences resulting from requirements of applicable legislations.

The plan’s main objective is to help employees save for their retirement. The plan offers retirement benefits which, when added to the government pensions which could be available and personal savings, will help you to benefit from a comfortable retirement. The plan also offers benefits in the event of your death or termination of employment before retirement.

This summary of the James Bay Cree-Naskapi Pension Plan is based on provisions of the plan as of January 1, 2008. Although every effort has been made to ensure its accuracy, this summary is not the legal text of the plan and it confers no rights. For a complete description of the plan provisions, refer to the official plan text named the “James Bay Cree-Naskapi Pension Plan”. Upon request to your associated employer, you may consult this text.

Note that the highlighted words of this summary are defined terms and their meaning can be found in the Glossary at the end of this summary. Please read the definitions carefully in order to understand how your benefits are determined.

Eligibility and participation in the plan

Eligibility requirements

Your date of eligibility under the plan is the date you complete six months of continuous employment. If you are a part-time employee, you need to have earned at least 35% of the YMPE or have worked at least 700 hours with an associated employer in each of the two previous calendar years.

You are not allowed to join the plan after age 65.

Participation in the plan

If you were hired after your associated employer joined the plan, your participation in the plan is compulsory from your date of eligibility. Otherwise, rules may vary by associated employer.

Continuous participation in the plan

Your active participation in the plan can only be terminated at your retirement, your termination of employment, or your death. You should refer to the Glossary for a description of what is considered a termination of employment. If you are hired by another associated employer within the 60 days following your termination of employment, your continuous employment will be considered uninterrupted. You will then be enrolled with the new employer as if you had never stopped working.

Rehiring of Pensioner

If you are receiving a pension from the plan and are rehired by a federal associated employer before normal retirement age, you have two options:

- stop receiving your pension, join the plan immediately and accrue benefits and receive an adjusted pension upon retirement; or
- continue receiving your pension and not accrue further benefits.

If you are receiving a pension from the plan and are rehired by a Québec associated employer, you will continue receiving your pension from the plan. Your eligibility to join the Québec plan will be determined based on the eligibility rules in such plan.

Contributions

Required contributions

The amount of your required contributions to the plan depends on whether you participate in the Canada or Québec Pension Plan (C/QPP) or not:

- if you do not participate in the C/QPP, you are required to contribute to the plan an amount equal to 6.5% ⁽¹⁾ of your earnings;
- if you participate in the C/QPP, you are required to contribute to the plan an amount equal to the sum of:
 - 4.5%⁽¹⁾ of your earnings up to the YMPE
 - plus*
 - 6.5%⁽¹⁾ of your earnings above YMPE, if any.

⁽¹⁾ For a period which should not extend beyond January 1, 2009, the applicable contribution rates are 5.0% of earnings if you do not participate in C/QPP and 3.5% / 5.0% if you participate in C/QPP. The applicable date of change in required contribution formula varies by associated employer.

Here are some examples of how required contributions are calculated:

- if you do not participate in the C/QPP:

2008 earnings	$40,000	$60,000
2008 required contributions	6.5% x $40,000 = $2,600	6.5% x $60,000 = $3,900

- if you participate in the C/QPP:

2008 earnings	$40,000	$60,000
2008 YMPE	$44,900	$44,900
2008 required contributions	4.5% x $40,000 = $1,800	4.5% x $44,900 + 6.5% x ($60,000 – $44,900) = $3,002

Your required contributions to the plan, on an annual basis, shall not exceed 50% of the “Money Purchase Limit”. The Money Purchase Limit is prescribed under the Income Tax Act. The 2008 Money Purchase Limit equals $21,000 resulting in a maximum required contribution to the plan of $10,500 in 2008.

If you are on disability or maternity leave, you are not required to contribute to the plan. In fact, your required contributions will be made by your associated employer on your behalf, as though they were paid by you. For periods of maternity leave, the associated employer will make such contributions for a period up to 18 weeks. No contributions from your associated employer will be made during the waiting period prior to qualifying for disability.

Contributions are not permitted during other periods of approved leave except during periods of parental, adoption or compassionate care leave as prescribed by legislation. During these periods, you have the option to maintain your required contributions to the plan (based on full salary) and continue accrual of benefits in the plan in accordance with applicable legislation.

Voluntary contributions

You may elect to increase your income at retirement by making voluntary contributions to the plan. Your voluntary contributions are collected and accumulate interest, in the same way as required contributions. The voluntary contributions shall not exceed such amount as may be permitted by the Canada Revenue Agency. Check with your employer for more details.

Interest credited on contributions

Your required and voluntary contributions will accumulate with interest until your retirement, your termination of employment, or your death. Interest shall be credited each calendar year. The interest rate used is based on the rate of return earned by the pension fund on a market value basis for that year, net of investment expenses with unrecognized gains and losses recognized gradually over five years to smooth out fluctuations.

Federal Associated Employers contributions

The federal associated employers contribute to the plan such amounts as are recommended by the actuary for the appropriate funding of the plan in accordance with applicable legislation. When the plan is in a surplus position, the federal associated employers may use all or part of such surplus to reduce contributions.

Retirement dates

The benefits payable upon your retirement depend on when you terminate continuous employment and elect to retire.

Situation ...	Type of retirement ...	What happens ...
If you terminate continuous employment on or after age 50 and before 60...	Early retirement	You can elect to receive your pension from the first day of any month coinciding with or following your termination of employment but no later than pensionable age i.e. age 60;
If you have credited service before January 1, 2008 and are still in continuous employment at age 60...	Optional retirement at pensionable age (Age 60)	You have two options: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Continue paying required contributions into the plan and accruing credited service; or ▪ Start receiving your pension from age 60 and not accrue further benefits
If you terminate continuous employment on or after age 60 and have not elected to receive your pension at age 60...	On or after age 60 but before 65: pensionable retirement At age 65: normal retirement After age 65: deferred retirement	You receive your pension from the first day of the month coinciding with or following your date of termination of employment Payment of pension cannot be later than the first day of December in the year you attain age 71

Retirement benefits

Your monthly pension at retirement will be based on your final-average earnings (FAE) and your credited service. The benefits payable depend on when you elect to retire.

If you retire on or after pensionable age (age 60)

Your retirement income, if you retire on or after age 60, will be calculated using the formula described below. As you can see, the calculation differs for the various periods of service.

For service prior to April 1, 1985

Some associated employers do and some do not provide benefits for service prior to April 1, 1985⁽¹⁾. Also, the level of benefits will vary between associated employers. This is due to varying contributions for past service by the associated employers.

Typically, the amount of benefits for service prior to April 1, 1985, if any, is a frozen amount of pension based on your level of earnings prior to April 1, 1985.

If you are entitled to any benefit for service prior to April 1, 1985, your annual pension statement will reflect such benefit.

⁽¹⁾ April 1, 1985 shall be replaced by April 1, 1986 for Cree Trappers Association

For service from April 1, 1985 to December 31, 1991

The annual amount of your benefits accumulated from April 1, 1985 to December 31, 1991 is the greater of A and B where:

A	The benefit which may be provided by two times your pre-1992 required contributions accumulated with interest.
B	For years you have not contributed to C/QPP 1.5% times your FAE ; times your credited service from April 1, 1985 to December 31, 1991	For years you have contributed to C/QPP [1.0% times the minimum between your FAE and your FAYMPE plus 1.5% of the excess, if any, of your FAE over your FAYMPE] times your credited service from April 1, 1985 to December 31, 1991

For service from January 1, 1992

For years you have not contributed to C/QPP 2% times your FAE ; times your credited service from January 1, 1992	For years you have contributed to C/QPP [1.5% times the minimum between your FAE and your FAYMPE plus 2.0% of the excess, if any, of your FAE over your FAYMPE] times your credited service from January 1, 1992
--	--

Example 1 – Retirement at Pensionable age (60) – native

As a first example, let's assume that

- you started participation in the plan on January 1, 1987, and
- you elect to retire on January 1, 2008, at age 60.

We will further assume that you have not participated in the C/QPP throughout this period and that your FAE equals $60,000. After this 21-year participation, your retirement income from the plan would be calculated as follows:

For service before 1992⁽¹⁾
1.5% x $60,000
X 5 years	$ 4,500.00
Plus
For service from 1992
2.0% x $60,000
x 16 years	$ 19,200.00
Total annual pension	$ 23,700.00

⁽¹⁾ Assuming that the pension provided by two times the pre-1992 required contributions accumulated with interest is lower.

Example 2 – Retirement at age 62 – non-native

As a second example, let's assume that

- you started participation in the plan on January 1, 1987
- on attainment of age 60, you were still in continuous employment and elected to continue accruing benefits in the plan; and
- you elect to retire on January 1, 2011, at age 62.

We will further assume that you participated in the C/QPP throughout this period, that your FAE equals $50,000 and that the FAYMPE is $45,000. After this 24-year participation, your retirement income from the plan would be calculated as follows:

For service before 1992⁽¹⁾
[1.0% x $45,000
Plus
1.5% x ($50,000 – $45,000)]
x 5 years	$ 2,625.00
Plus
For service from 1992
[1.5% x $45,000
Plus
2.0% x ($50,000 – $45,000)]
x 19 years	$14,725.00
Total annual pension	$17,350.00

⁽¹⁾ Assuming that the pension provided by two times the pre-1992 required contributions accumulated with interest is lower.

If you retire before pensionable age (age 60)

If you retire before age 60, you are entitled to benefits being calculated in the same way as for a retirement at pensionable age, based on your credited service at your early retirement date. However, because payments start at an earlier age than 60 and consequently are expected to be made over a longer period of time, your monthly payments will be reduced.

Your reduced pension is calculated as follows:

Pension calculated as if you were age 60 times (100% less ¼% times months before age 60)

Example 3 – Early retirement - native

Let's assume that:

- you started participation in the plan on January 1, 1987, and
- you elect to retire on January 1, 2008, at age 55.

We will further assume that you have not participated in the C/QPP throughout this period and that your FAE equals $60,000. As a first step, your retirement income from the plan is calculated as for a retirement at pensionable age as follows:

For service before 1992
1.5% x $60,000
X 5 years	$ 4,500.00
Plus
For service from 1992
2.0% x $60,000
x 16 years	$ 19,200.00
Total annual pension before early retirement reduction	$ 23,700.00

The amount of pension is then adjusted to reflect your early retirement date as follows:

Pension without early retirement reduction	$ 23,700.00
reduction	times
	(100% less ¼% times 60 months*)
	= 85%
	equals
Pension payable from age 55	$ 20,145.00

* 60 months between age 55 and age 60.

Example 4 – Early retirement – non-native

As another example, let’s assume that

- you started participation in the plan on January 1, 1987
- you elect to retire on January 1, 2011, at age 57.

We will further assume that you participated in the C/QPP throughout this period, that your FAE equals $50,000 and that the FAYMPE is $45,000. As a first step, your retirement income from the plan is calculated as for a retirement at pensionable age as follows:

For service before 1992
[1.0% x $45,000
Plus
1.5% x ($50,000 – $45,000)]
x 5 years	$ 2,625.00
Plus
For service from 1992
[1.5% x $45,000
Plus
2.0% x ($50,000 – $45,000)]
x 19 years	$14,725.00
Total annual pension	$17,350.00

The amount of pension is then adjusted to reflect your early retirement date as follows:

Pension without early retirement reduction	$17,350.00
	Times
reduction	(100% less ¼% times 36 months*)
	= 91%
	Equals
Pension payable from age 57	$15,788.50

* 36 months between age 57 and age 60.

Maximum pension under the plan imposed by legislation

Your annual pension payable from the plan⁽¹⁾ calculated at retirement cannot exceed the lesser of the following:

- the “Defined Benefit Limit” times your years of credited service not exceeding 35 years;
- 2% of your average earnings over your best three consecutive years of remuneration times your years of credited service not exceeding 35 years.

The “Defined Benefit Limit” is defined under the Income Tax Act and Regulations as equal to $2,333 for a retirement in 2008, increasing to $2,444 in 2009 and indexed thereafter. This maximum pension may be reduced upon early retirement.

Retirement pension pertaining to your voluntary contributions

At your retirement, your voluntary contributions accrued with interest can be used to purchase an additional pension from an insurance company. You may instead decide to receive a refund of these contributions or have these transferred to your RRSP.

Government pensions

In addition to your pension under the plan, you are entitled to OAS benefits. If you contributed to the C/QPP, you will also be entitled to C/QPP benefits.

- You are entitled to OAS benefits at age 65, provided you have resided in Canada for at least 10 years (subject to reimbursement in whole or in part for high income earners). For the first quarter of 2008, the basic amount of the unreduced monthly OAS pension was $502.31 for someone with 40 years residence in Canada.
- If you contributed to the C/QPP, your benefits will be paid as an unreduced pension payable at age 65 or, should you elect, as a reduced pension payable anytime from age 60. The amount of the C/QPP pension you may be entitled to depends on many factors; for 2008 the maximum amount is $884.58 per month.

⁽¹⁾ Excluding the pension resulting from voluntary contributions and any additional pension resulting from the application of the minimum of two times the pre-1992 required contributions accumulated with interest

Form of pension

Basic form

Your pension is calculated based on a Life Guaranteed 10-year basis. This means your pension is payable for your life with the guarantee that should you die after your pension has started, but before you have received 120 monthly payments, the remaining payments will be continued to your beneficiary, unless you elect or are required to elect another form of pension.

Form required by law

By law, you are required to take a Joint and Survivor 60% annuity if you are legally married or in a common-law relationship. This means your pension is payable for your life with the guarantee that at least 60% of the amount will be continued to your surviving spouse in the event of your death, unless waived in writing by your spouse.

You must obtain your spouse's written consent in order to elect a pension option that continues for less than 60% of your pension to your spouse during his/her lifetime upon your death. This consent can be obtained at any time before your payments begin.

Optional form of pension

If the basic form of pension and the one required by law do not fully meet your needs, you may elect an optional form of pension.

At time of retirement, you will be offered several optional forms of pension. You may elect one of these optional forms by completing the statement of election form provided to you. You may need to obtain your spouse's consent, depending on the optional form.

The amounts of pension payable as per the basis required by law or an optional form of pension will be such that their values are equal to the pension amount calculated as per the basic form.

Payment of pension amount

Your pension is paid by check or is deposited into your bank account, or, as the case may be, into that of your spouse, joint annuitant or beneficiary once a month.

Termination of employment benefits

At your termination of employment before age 50, you are entitled to receive your accumulated benefits as a deferred vested pension or, subject to restrictions, to transfer them out of the plan before age 50.

Deferred vested pension

Upon your termination of employment, before age 50, you will be entitled to a deferred vested pension calculated in the same way as for a retirement at pensionable age (age 60), based on your credited service at your termination of employment. Such pension is payable when you attain pensionable age (age 60). You may elect to have your deferred pension payable any time from age 50. Should you elect to receive your deferred vested pension before age 60, your monthly payments will be actuarially reduced.

In addition to your deferred vested pension, you could be entitled to:

- an additional pension provided by your excess contributions. Your excess contributions are defined as the excess of your post-1991 contributions with interest over 50% of the value of the pension you earned in respect of this period of credited service, and
- an additional benefit corresponding to the value of indexation during deferral period before retirement. This additional benefit represents the cost of the increase of your post-1991 pension, up to age 50 based on 50% of the increase in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) subject to a minimum of 0% and a maximum of 2% per year.

Transfer out of the plan

Upon ceasing to be an active member of the plan and provided you have terminated your continuous employment before age 50, you may, subject to legislation, transfer the value of your benefits to one of the following:

- A Locked-In Registered Retirement Savings Plan (RRSP) or Life Income Fund (LIF) in your name;
- A life insurance company authorized to conduct annuity business in Canada, provided the value is used to purchase an annuity; or
- Another registered pension plan, if that plan permits and has been registered by the Canada Revenue Agency.

In all three cases, these funds must ultimately be used to provide you with lifetime retirement income and cannot be cashed out.

The value of the benefits transferable shall be equal to the value of your deferred vested pension. In respect of credited service from January 1, 1992, the value of the benefits transferable shall be equal to the greater of A and B, where:

- A

Value of your deferred vested pension for service from January 1, 1992
Your excess contributions
Your additional benefit
- OR
- B

2 x post-1991 required contributions accumulated with interest
--

Electing your settlement options

You must exercise your choice within 90 days following the reception of your termination of employment statement or within 90 days following any 5th anniversary of your termination of employment, but no later than 90 days after your attainment of age 50.

If you do not exercise any choice, the plan administrator will assume that you have elected to receive a deferred pension, starting at your retirement (starting between age 50 and 60).

A default option providing for the automatic refund or transfer of the value of your benefits may apply in some cases in accordance with applicable legislation.

Voluntary contributions

You are entitled to a refund of your voluntary contributions accumulated with interest.

Death benefits

Death benefit before retirement

As an active member

If you die while an active member of the plan, your surviving spouse will receive an immediate pension, based on the value of the pension you would have been entitled to if you had terminated your continuous employment on the day before your death. As an alternative, your surviving spouse could elect a lump sum transfer to a RRSP or other similar vehicle equal to the amount of lump sum transfer you would have been entitled to had you terminated employment on your date of death subject to the requirements of the legislation. In the absence of a surviving spouse, your designated beneficiary or estate will receive a lump sum transfer equal to the above benefits.

As an inactive member

Should you die after your termination of employment and be entitled to a deferred vested pension, your death benefits will be equal to the value of the deferred vested pension and will be payable as an immediate annuity to your spouse. As an alternative, your spouse could elect to transfer the value of the pre-retirement death benefits to a RRSP or other similar vehicle, subject to the requirements of the legislation. In the absence of a surviving spouse, your designated beneficiary or estate will receive a lump sum transfer equal to the above benefits.

Death benefit after retirement

The form of pension you elected will determine the benefit, if any, to be continued to your spouse, beneficiary or estate.

Disability benefit

While you are on disability, you continue to accumulate credited service. Upon reaching your normal retirement age (age 65), you are entitled to a pension for life calculated based on your earnings and YMPE, immediately prior to becoming disabled and on your credited service up to that normal retirement age.

As an alternative, if you have credited service before January 1, 2008, you have the option to elect, upon attainment of your pensionable age (age 60), the payment of a lifetime pension from the plan starting at such pensionable age. The amount of pension will then be based on your credited service up to that pensionable age.

Indexation after retirement

Starting date

Your pension will be subject to an annual increase to reflect changes in the cost-of-living starting January 1st following the later between the year of attainment of age 60 and the year of your retirement.

The pension payable to your surviving spouse will be increased annually in the same manner as if the pension were payable to you subject to eligibility criteria based on your own age.

Determination of the increase

Your pension or survivor pension in respect of credited service from January 1, 1992 shall be increased annually at a rate representing the annual increase in the Consumer Price Index up to 3% per annum (prorated by the number of months of retirement over 12 months). Your pension or survivor pension in respect of credited service before January 1, 1992 shall be increased by this same percentage provided the performance of the pension fund permits such increase. If the performance of the pension fund does not permit such increase, the retirement committee may decide to grant a lower increase, or no increase.

Plan administration

Plan administrator

The plan administrator is a retirement committee composed of one member from each federal associated employer.

Information to the members

In order to keep the members informed, the administrator shall:

- Annually provide members with a statement of benefits accrued under the plan;
- provide members upon retirement, termination of employment or death with a statement indicating any available benefits;
- allow members to consult the official rules of the plan and any other document prescribed by the law.

General information

Your pension may not be alienated or assigned, except to a spouse or former spouse pursuant to a court order or other legal agreement arising as a consequence of the breakdown of a marriage or other conjugal relationship.

The federal associated employers

- consider neither this plan nor any provision within it a contract of employment between the federal associated employers and any employee.
- reserve the right to amend or terminate the plan at any time, subject to applicable legislation. In the event of plan termination, the pension fund shall be used to meet all liabilities under the plan, to the extent that they can be met by the Pension Fund in accordance with any applicable legislation. Any surplus remaining after satisfaction of all liabilities under the plan shall be returned to the federal associated employers subject to any applicable legislation.
- their officers, directors, representatives or agents or representatives of the trustees may not be held personally liable for any benefits payable under the plan.
- have taken every effort to ensure that the James Bay Cree-Naskapi Pension Plan complies with all applicable provincial and federal legislation.

Glossary

Associated employer – is a Québec associated employer or a federal associated employer.

Beneficiary – is the person you designate as such on a form to be provided by your employer. You may, subject to applicable legislation, revoke from time to time any such designation and appoint a new beneficiary.

Continuous employment – is your continuous employment with an associated employer from your date of hire to your retirement, termination of employment or death. Continuous employment is not broken by periods of disability, maternity leave, lay-off or approved leave of absence not exceeding 12 months.

Credited service – is the period of your continuous employment calculated as the number of years and months from April 1, 1985, the effective date of the plan, during which your required contributions are made to the plan, plus the period of your continuous employment prior to April 1, 1985 recognized and credited by the associated employers. If you are a part-time employee your credited service for each year of employment will be calculated as a fraction, i.e., your actual periods of employment during a given year will be compared to a full-time employee's normal period of employment per year.

C/QPP – means the Canada or Québec Pension Plan.

Disability – means a total and permanent disability certified by a medical doctor selected by the plan administrator, and which would qualify for a waiver of premium under the group life insurance program to which the plurality of members participate through the associated employers.

Earnings – means your total annual compensation while a member of the plan including overtime and bonuses, but excluding reimbursements for expenses, payments on account of disability or maternity leave, or any other special payments. If you are a part-time employee, your earnings will be annualized for the purposes of determining your pension entitlement, i.e., calculated as if you were a full-time employee. The earnings of a disabled member or on maternity leave, are deemed to be the rate of earnings immediately prior to such a member's disability or maternity leave.

Employee – is an employee of an associated employer, performing functions of a type determined by such associated employer as eligible for participation in the plan.

FAE is the acronym for final-average earnings – means the greater of 1) your average earnings over the period of your six consecutive calendar years of highest remuneration preceding your retirement, termination of employment or death and 2) your average annualized earnings over the six-year period immediately preceding your retirement, termination of employment or death.

FAYMPE is the acronym for final-average YMPE – means the average of the YMPE in the calendar year of your retirement, termination of employment or death, and in the five immediately preceding calendar years.

Federal associated employer – is any employer who is part of the group existing from time to time consisting of any James Bay Cree or Naskapi of Québec entity which has adhered to this plan.

Maternity leave – means any period of maternity leave taken in accordance with a federal or provincial law or an agreement between you and your associated employer. The period commences on the earlier of the date of leave and the date of delivery and ends on the day you are scheduled to return to work.
